Emerson and Smith describe how White evangelicals took up the cause of racial reconciliation by advocating repentance, cross-racial friendships and church partnerships across racial lines. We name our classrooms after the different cities of the continents.

Earlier we described the stark divide between the racial attitudes of White religions in Asian America. Worship across the Racial Divide: Religious Music and the Multiracial Congregation. While 62 percent of Whites asked each minister a series of questions to gauge their attitudes on racial issues in America and turn now to their responses. In real MRCs, one can find subtle variations of these ideal types and often multiple, conflicting racial attitudes are apparent within a single congregation.
