F The guidewire piles up proximal to the lesion. In the chapters relating to stent and endovascular device applications to vascular beds where the technologies are not FDA approved for these applications, Dr. Place the middle of the probe over the intended puncture site in the artery. Puncture near the common femoral artery bifurcation leaves inadequate work Often the artery is difficult to find using the portable ultrasound machine and can be located by finding the vein. The evaluation of the patient and the preprocedure analysis makes a difference. A The left arm is fully abducted. F The dominant hand retrieves the guidewire, straightens the guidewire tip, and inserts it into the needle hub.
